HAYES ENTRIES TO WIN AT DELMAR; MISS GOULD BEST IN UNION HANDICAP

Zinda in Maiden Race and Jordan in Feature Should Be Contenders at County Track—Lasso to Repeat—Sanders and Mumford Have Good Chance to Capture Duffy Handicap—Setakuff Ought to Gallop In in the Last Event.

AT DELMAR TRACK.

Two of the Haynes seem to have first-class chances to get the long end of the purse in the respective races at Delmar to-day, Zinda in the opening event and Jordan in the fourth looking best of their fields.

Zinda must be selected over Miss Powell in spite of the latter's victory of Saturday. The filly, who carried 108 on that occasion and is scheduled to pack 107 pounds each to-day. Miss Powell finished well to the fore Saturday, but Zinda struck that fatal "soft spot," a phrase that has so different a meaning when applied to the Delmar straight, between start and stretch turns, from its customary use.

The Woolthorpe filly lost much ground at this point and floundered helplessly for an instant in the soggy going. Then she regained her stride and started after the bunch. She made up but little ground. It is true. Colonel Baker, owner of Miss Powell, stated after the race that the sudden shock of striking this going seemed to have jolted the run out of Zinda for the time.

He was watching Zinda closely, as his own filly was alongside. So his opinion seems of value in this case. Joe Graham, a youngster from Hannockbure, Nettle Hamilton, is also in this event. He started once at Little Rock, but was unfortunate in being practically left at the post. He opened second choice in the betting on that occasion.

JORDAN SHOULD HAVE A CHANCE. In the fourth race Jordan should have a good chance. He has always liked the track, the going should be to his taste and he is said to be in fair shape. Jack Young ran a really good race his last out, when he finished third to Charlie

Thompson and Flying Torpedo. His rush from last position to the front down the stretch reminded one of his old time form.

With the form the Haynes stable has been showing and the fact that Jordan is to be in as good shape as the rest, he should be a strong favorite. Strider beat Flying Torpedo by a nose last out, but this race he is expected to be the judges on account of Torpedo's silking. At that, the field seems to be well enough matched to make a first-class three-turn race.

Traspetter may beat John Doyle to-day. But it looks rather as if Doyle will beat him instead. Each won't let out. Doyle's better rather than a nice bunch pretty handily in the last event Saturday. King's farm may be third.

Dischille looks to be in nicely in the third race. The weight should not bother her, and she should be able to settle her lead. Passive also looks well.

LAISO SHOULD WIN. In the fifth race Lasso seems to have another victory at hand. The Lasso mare is in great shape just now and seems thoroughly at home on the sharp turns of the track and in the going likely to prevail to-day. Lasso has had a long rest and may come back to her last year's form. Conundrum would be one of the first to make a first-class three-turn race as his last races were not as good as his first two at New Orleans.

AT UNION TRACK. The feature race at the Union track to-day will be the Duffy Handicap at five-eighths of a mile. The track will be muddy and as the going will be to the liking of Miss Gould, she seems best in the race. Miss Gould ran a good race Saturday, being beaten a length by Animosity. She led the field to the eighth pole and with a vigorous race might have been able to stall off the rush of Animosity.

If Calvit has the mount to-day, it is hard to see how she can lose. Soundly has a burst of speed, but is handicapped by the weights, being asked to pack 126 pounds. Hilarity and St. Noel have chances and have won races in the past. The others apparently have no chances.

SEXTETTE LOOKS BEST. The opening event will be a six-furlong sprint, in which twelve are entered to face the barrier. SEXTETTE gets in light in this race, with 85 pounds, and on past performance appears best. Moderator likes the race and should be kept up to the bunch at the finish. Lady Knight, a Pirate of Penzance, has been run good enough to put him first to-day if he runs back up to top-of-the-line pace. Passage won a race several weeks ago in the local sprint and ought to be second. Dally should be third.

GUS LANKA TO WIN. Gus Lanka looks best of the lot in the fourth event at three-quarters of a mile. On his last race he was close second. Jean Gravier is the one that Lanka has one beat as he is good in the mud and has one good race to his credit. Tom Collins, with an eye on the money, should be third, as he is rounding to form. Black Hawk, the mud and has a good chance to be in the money. Lasso's fair 2-year-old, who likes the mud, but as this is his first start he may not be ready.

RED LIGHT HAS CHANCE. Red Light has been running so consistently of late that she seems to have a good chance to annex the fifth race to her credit. The distance is to her liking. She ran in third Saturday to the Messenger and Macbeth, beating Labor and Kunda. She was in light that day, with seventy-five pounds and placed up to top-of-the-line pace to-day. Yet she should be able to carry this weight, as she will have a stouter boy up to the post. Scarborough's race was a good one. This is Establin's distance on the track and he should be able to hang on and be in the money.

SETAKUFF IN A GALLOP. Setakuff should gallop in the last race at a mile. He is the class of the field. His only race to-day is Saturday, gives him a good chance to be second. Setakuff is a good horse and should be a contender. Morris Volmer should be the contenders and, with these, Circular's race, the chances favoring the form.
